COMPETITION FORMAT AND RULES WEIGHTLIFTING

As of 23 JUN 2014

Youth Olympic Competition Format

The Weightlifting competition at the Youth Olympic Games comprises six bodyweight categories for men, and five for women. The competition format for each category, no matter in how many groups it is contested, consists of a single phase (final). The combined results of the competition produce the Youth Olympic Champion and the medal winners. Each competition consists of two parts: the Snatch and the Clean & Jerk, with generally a ten minute break between the two. Each athlete may take three attempts at individually chosen weights in both the Snatch and the Clean & Jerk, and the best results achieved (in kilogrammes) are added to a total, which determines the ranking. Each athlete is allowed one minute (or two minutes, if making consecutive attempts) between the calling of his or her name, and the beginning of the attempt.

The rules for lifting and the adjudication of attempts are the same for men and women.

The Youth Olympic competition is individual, and there is no official team classification.

Differences between the IWF Youth World Championships and the Youth Olympic Games

The main difference is that in the IWF Youth World Championships, titles and medals are also awarded for the two individual lifts, the Snatch and the Clean & Jerk, while in the Youth Olympic classification, only the aggregate of these two (i.e. the total result) counts. At the IWF Youth World Championships, there are eight men and seven women bodyweight categories, whereas at the Youth Olympic Games there are six men and five women bodyweight categories. Furthermore, at the IWF Youth World Championships athletes score points for a team classification, whereas no team titles are awarded at the Youth Olympic Games. The other important difference is that there are more participants at the IWF Youth World Championships. Finally, the age group at the IWF Youth World Championships is 13 -17, at the Youth Olympic Games it is 15 -17.

Sport Rules and Procedures

Each athlete has three attempts to make on both the Snatch and the Clean & Jerk, which can be on different weights. For the first attempt the barbell is loaded progressively, and the athletes take attempts in the order of the progression of the weight and their lot number. After the first attempt, the calling order is determined such that the athlete who announces the lower weight will lift first. If two athletes announce the same weight, the athlete who was called earlier in the previous attempt will lift first.

The athletes are called upon one by one by a speaker to perform the attempts and have one minute (or two minutes, if making consecutive attempts) to start the lift. Three referees adjudicate each lift and pass their decision, if accepted or not. The validity of the lift is decided on majority by the referees. Each decision is immediately analyzed by the Jury, and they can decide to change it. After this, the decision is final and irrevocable. The athlete with the highest total result is the winner.

Tie Break Rules

In the case of identical results, lighter bodyweight (registered before the competition) gives a higher ranking. If two or more athletes obtain the same result and they are registered at the same bodyweight, the athlete who reached the result first in accordance with the sequence of the competition is classified before the other(s).

Penalties / Disqualification Rules

There are no penalties in the sport of Weightlifting and disqualification would only apply in case of violation to the rules.

Protests / Appeals

No protest or request for correction is accepted.
