Competition Format and Rules

競技形式および規則 / Format et règlement des compétitions

As of THU 1 JUL 2021

OLYMPIC COMPETITION FORMAT

The weightlifting competition at the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games comprises seven bodyweight categories for men and seven for women.

Men: 61kg, 67kg, 73kg, 81kg, 96kg, 109kg and +109kg

Women: 49kg, 55kg, 59kg, 64kg, 76kg, 87kg and +87kg

The competition format for each category consists of a single phase (final), though it may be contested in two groups. The combined results of the competition produce the Olympic champion and the medal winners. Each competition consists of two parts: the snatch and the clean & jerk, with generally a 10-minute break between the two. Each athlete may take three attempts at individually chosen weights in both the snatch and the clean & jerk, and the best results achieved (in kilograms) are added to a total which determines the ranking. Each athlete is allowed one minute (or two minutes, if making consecutive attempts) between the calling of his or her name and the beginning of the attempt.

The rules of lifting and for the adjudication of attempts are the same for men and women.

The Olympic Games competition is individual and, even if a team classification is calculated, no medals are awarded to teams.

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE IWF WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS AND THE OLYMPIC GAMES

The main difference is that while in the International Weightlifting Federation (IWF) World Championships, titles and medals are awarded also for the two individual lifts, the snatch and the clean & jerk, in the Olympic classification, only the aggregate of these two, i.e. the total result counts.

The other important difference is in the number of entries: in IWF World Championships, each country may enter a maximum of 10 men and 10 women with a maximum of two athletes per bodyweight category, while in the Olympic Games, each NOC has a specific quota obtained in the qualification process, with a maximum of four male athletes and a maximum of four female athletes (maximum of one athlete per bodyweight category). Athletes who started in snatch, but have no valid results, can compete in clean & jerk at the world championships, but this is not allowed at the Olympic Games because medals are awarded only for the total results of the snatch and the clean & jerk.

CHANGES SINCE THE RIO 2016 OLYMPIC GAMES

The bodyweight categories for women and men have changed and the quotas for male and female athletes are now the same.

Total number of Athletes: 196 (98 men/98 women)

The tiebreak rules have changed: the actual bodyweight is no longer used to break ties. See below.

SPORT RULES AND PROCEDURES

Each athlete has three attempts to make on both the snatch and the clean & jerk, which can be on different weights.

The barbell is loaded progressively. The athlete requesting the lightest weight lifts first.

The weight of the barbell must always be increased by multiple of one kg increments.

One minute is allocated to each athlete between the calling of his/her name and the beginning of the attempt.

When an athlete attempts two lifts in succession, he/she is allowed two minutes for the succeeding attempt.

Three referees adjudicate each lift and pass their decision, if accepted or not. The validity of the lift is decided on majority by the referees. Each decision made by the referees is immediately analysed by the jury, and they can decide to reverse it. After this, the decision is final and irrevocable. The athlete with the highest total result will be the winner.

Calling order

The following four factors listed in priority must be considered when calling the athletes:

1. The weight of the barbell (lightest weight first)
2. The number of the attempt (lowest number first)
3. The sequence/order of the previous attempt(s) (the athlete who lifted earliest is first)
4. The start number of the athlete (lowest first)

Tiebreak rules

If there is a tie, the athlete who made the total first will win. The following factors are considered to decide this:

1. The athlete who snatched more (has the lowest clean & jerk result) wins
2. If still tied, the athlete who achieved the clean & jerk result on the lowest attempt number wins
3. If still tied, the athlete who lifted the lightest weight at the previous attempt(s) wins
4. If still tied, the athlete with the lower lot number (who lifted first) wins

In the case of ties in different groups, the athletes who competed earlier will be ranked higher, regardless of the attempt number at which the athletes reached the relevant result.

Penalties/disqualification rules

There are no penalties in the sport of weightlifting and disqualification would only apply in case of violation to the rules.

Protests/appeals

If the referees'/jury's decision is challenged or in case of disagreement within the jury, video playback technology (VPT) is used to resolve the issue. The athlete/team can challenge the referees' or jury's decision by submitting a challenge request to the nearest technical controller (using the challenge card).
